REBLOCELL Reblocell

Preservative free,
Bacteria free,
pH neutral skin care

No harmful chemicals are added to EGF Cosmetics, REBLOCELL products. It is made of plant embryonic extract extracted on the day of production, which has no irritative substances to the human body. Extracted from plants, EGF fills inner and outer skin in more safe and stable way through the fermentation process using nature-derived ingredients.

No preservatives are added to EGF Cosmetics REBLOCELL ampoule and mask pack to preserve human-derived proteins in the best condition. In other words, it remains fresh without preservatives for more than two years. With no bacteria, this pH neutral product does not irritate the skin at all.

With 40 years of studies,
Succeeded to preserve highly active and hyperpure EGF at room temperature

It was difficult to cultivate a large amount of EGF in vitro and impossible to make a human body-like EGF structure. However, the development of molecular biology and advanced genetic technology has led to keep human-derived protein EGF stable, hyperpure, and highly active, similar to the human body.

One of the proteins generated from human body, EGF is vulnerable to chemicals like all proteins and easily deteriorated at room temperature. Therefore, EGF was not effective for the cosmetic product.

EGF Cosmetics REBLOCELL product contains not only EGF to regenerate outer skin, but the FGF to regenerate even inner skin and dermis in perfect proportions, helping skin cell proliferation for human body mechanisms.

EGF cosmetics
Certified for anti-wrinkles functional by MFDS

There are many EGF cosmetics saying that they are using EGF ingredients, but in fact, the specified ingredient for the efficacy is adenosine. The binary name of EGF is Rh-Oligopeptide-1, not adenosine.

Make sure of checking all ingredients of EGF Cosmetics, REBLOCELL.

Created by the innovation of biotechnology, EGF Cosmetics, REBLOCELL is the only product in Korea containing the EGF certified for anti-wrinkle
